Plaintiff, Benjamin J. Stein, alleges:

*D-41
Ronald M. Shujian*

1 He is also extremely well known for his advocacy for animal
2 welfare and for the rights of wounded soldiers and the families
3 of those lost in the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan.

4 He makes his primary residence in Southern California.

5 Defendants.

6 Kyocera Corporation ("KYOCERA"), the headquarters and parent
7 company of the Kyocera group, is a very large Japanese
8 conglomerate manufacturing electronics, office equipment, daggers
9 and knives, solar electricity equipment, mobile phones, and many 10 other goods and services. Its 2010 revenues were roughly $13
11 billion. Its headquarters are in Kyoto, Japan.

12 KYOCERA conducts business on a very large scale in the 13 United States under the names of Kyocera Mita America, Inc. and 14 Kyocera International Inc., the North American regional holding 15 company for Kyoto, Japan based Kyocera Corporation.

16 Kyocera Mita America, Inc., ("KYOCERA MITA") is a New Jersey
17 corporation with its corporate offices in Fairfield, New Jersey.
18 It conducts considerable business in California, has regional 19 headquarters in Irvine, California, and operates in California as 20 a foreign corporation. It has an agent for receipt of process in 21 Sacramento, California.

22 Mr. Tetsuo Kuba is the President of KYOCERA and supervises 23 all of its activities, and all of its 67,000 employees report to 24 him. He, along with the board of directors, sets company policy.

1 Seiter & Miller Advertising, Inc. ("SEITER & MILLER"), a New
2 York corporation, is a large advertising agency in New York City.
3 Among their major clients is KYOCERA MITA.

4 Livingston Miller ("MILLER") is President of SEITER &
5 MILLER.

6 Grace Jao ("JAO") is a staff member of SEITER & MILLER.

7 Defendants DOES 1-30 are individuals or entities now unknown
8 who proximately caused the wrongdoing described herein either as 9 principals or as agents or employees of either the named
10 defendants or of other unknown defendants.

11 Jurisdiction

12 Plaintiff lives and primarily works in Los Angeles County,
13 California. Defendants KYOCERA MITA and SEITER & MILLER do
14 substantial business in Los Angeles County. MILLER and JAO are 15 principals or employees of SEITER & MILLER.
16

17 ALLEGATIONS COMMON TO ALL CAUSES OF ACTION

18 The Background

19 On or about December 9, 2010, defendant JAO of SEITER &
20 MILLER contacted Marcia Hurwitz (Hurwitz) of Innovative Artists
21 Agency, BEN STEIN's agent for commercials and speaking, to 22 inquire about his availability to do several commercials for 23 computer printers made and sold by KYOCERA and KYOCERA MITA and 24 to give a speech at a Kyocera company event. JAO said they wanted 25 someone with an economics qualification in the public mind and 26 BEN STEIN came to mind at once.
27
28

1 Hurwitz asked defendant JAO if this was an offer. JAO said
2 it was.

3 Negotiations went on by telephone call and e-mail for about
4 the next 5 weeks. At the conclusion of that time, all material
5 deal points - payment to plaintiff, days of shooting the 6 commercials, term of usage - and all of the usual details of 7 making such a contract had been offered by defendant KYOCERA MITA
8 and agreed to by plaintiff. The contractual sum for the work
9 agreed to under the contract is $300,000. The only points still 10 under discussion-but not in dispute-were what kind of tea and 11 other snacks BEN STEIN would have on the set. There were no
12 outstanding deal points.

13
14 The nature of the contract was that for the time of the 15 shooting and the speech, plaintiff would be an employee and under 16 the control of KYOCERA MITA for the purposes of the commercial,
17 which is the standard nature of such agreements.

18 Hurwitz has been in this field for 34 years and considered
19 the deal done. On that assurance, BEN STEIN changed his winter
20 schedule to accommodate the work contemplated in the deal.

21 The Illegal Conduct of Defendants

22 On or about February 9, 2011, defendant JAO called Hurwitz
23 to tell her that questions had been raised by defendant Kyocera
24 about whether BEN STEIN's views on global warming and on the 25 environment were sufficiently conventional and politically
26 correct for Kyocera. (KYOCERA, after many years of working with 27 some of the most toxic chemicals in industry, had recently
28

1 adopted a posture of deep concern for the environment and
2 especially for limiting carbon emissions.) JAO said that KYOCERA
3 MITA wanted to know more about BEN STEIN's views on global
4 warming and if he had questioned whether global warming as man-
5 made could possibly not be true or could be a hoax.

6 Hurwitz told defendant JAO that she was perplexed by the 7 inquiry since as far as she was concerned, the deal was done and 8 BEN STEIN's political and scientific views on the subject were 9 not part of the contract for BEN STEIN to discuss the merits of 10 computer printers.

11 However, as a courtesy to the people by whom plaintiff
12 believed himself to be employed, plaintiff informed defendants
13 that he was extremely concerned about the environment, had been 14 for some years, and had often spoken and written about how bad
15 for human lungs it was to put micro-particles into the air by 16 burning coal.

17
18 However, BEN STEIN said, he was by no means certain that 19 global warming was man-made, a position held by many scientists
20 and political conservatives. He also told Hurwitz to inform 21 defendants that as a matter of religious belief, he believed that 22 God, and not man, controlled the weather.

23 On February 16, 2011, defendant MILLER, president of 24 defendant SEITER & MILLER, sent Hurwitz an e-mail headed "Ben 25 Stein Contract".

26 The e-mail said that Kyocera had decided to "withdraw its 27 offer" to BEN STEIN (despite the fact that there had already been 28

1 offer and acceptance, and a change of position, .i.e., a contract,
2 not simply an offer). This illegal action was being taken,
3 according to defendant MILLER, because of "...Ben's official
4 positions on various policy issues, but also statements widely
5 attributed to him that appear on the web of which we have only
6 lately become aware..."

7 Plaintiff BEN STEIN is not an official of anything. He has 8 no "official positions" on anything and changes his views as 9 facts and analysis compel. "Statements widely attributed to him
10 that appear on the web..." means anonymous, unsupported gossip
11 about a famous person, any of whom will have detractors.

12 Almost immediately after firing BEN STEIN, defendants
13 KYOCERA MITA/SEITER & MILLER approached and then hired an 14 Economics teacher at The University of Maryland to do the 15 commercials they had already hired Stein to do. Defendants, in an 16 astonishingly brazen misappropriation of BEN STEIN's persona,
17 dressed him up as Stein often appeared in commercials (bow tie,
18 glasses, sports jacket). He was told to perform the commercials
19 and did perform them in a way so derived from BEN STEIN's well
20 known persona that The Washington Post described Prof. Morici as 21 looking like an imitation of BEN STEIN in so many words.

22 This behavior on the part of defendants strikes at such 23 basic American values as the sanctity of contract, freedom of 24 speech, freedom of religion, and political freedom, and shows
25 contempt for law.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

Wrongful Discharge in Violation of Fundamental Public Policy

Plaintiff incorporates the prior paragraphs herein.

A host of federal laws protects Americans from being discriminated against on the basis of religious belief. Neither employees nor independent contractors already hired may be dismissed on the basis of their religious views. That is unequivocal Federal and California law.

BEN STEIN's questioning of whether man makes the weather or God makes the weather is a matter of his religious belief. For him to be fired because of his religious belief is a clear case of discrimination against him for religious belief in violation of state and federal law.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Statutory Wrongful Discharge

Plaintiff incorporates the prior paragraphs herein.

Sections 1101 and 1102 of the California Labor Code specifically protect political expression and activity and prohibit any behavior by employers that would inhibit political or ideological activity by an employee or potential employee. This is in accordance with a long held state public policy position encouraging free, vigorous and open political discourse. Defendants' actions were clearly in retaliation for (as they put it themselves) "policy" positions by BEN STEIN, and deprived him of employment because of his positions.

SEITE

1 This behavior by defendants is in violation of specific
2 California statute and also public policy of the State.

3 Upon dismissing BEN STEIN, defendants, as noted, thereafter
4 hired a teacher of economics at the University of Maryland to do
5 the commercials that Stein was going to do. The commercials
6 featured that gentleman, Mr. Peter Morici, dressed as BEN STEIN
7 often appeared in commercials, using mannerisms so similar to 8 Stein's that The Washington Post said the commercials reminded 9 them of an imitation of BEN STEIN. This was an explicit 10 misappropriation of BEN STEIN's likeness and persona, which is an 11 explicit violation of BEN STEIN's rights of privacy and of 12 publicity, barred by California law.

13
14 FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

15 Intentional and Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress

16 Plaintiff incorporates the prior paragraphs herein.

17 By making a contract, then refusing to follow it through for 18 clearly illegal reasons, defendants have inflicted emotional
19 distress on plaintiff. Defendants blatantly disregarded their 20 contract by using an obvious BEN STEIN imitator to fulfill his 21 contract, thereby inflicting emotional distress on the plaintiff.
22 The fact that defendants fired BEN STEIN solely due to his 23 political and religious beliefs greatly distressed plaintiff.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, plaintiff prays judgment against defendants as follows:

1. For the contractual sum for the work agree to under the contract of $300,000.00;
2. For all consequential damages including all necessary attorney fees;
3. For exemplary and punitive damages;
4. For costs of suit; and
5. For such other and further relief as is just and proper.

NOTICE

- Plaintiff must file this cover sheet with the first paper filed in the action or proceeding (except small claims cases or cases filed under the Probate Code, Family Code, or Welfare and Institutions Code). (Cal. Rules of Court, rule 3.220.) Failure to file may result in sanctions.
- File this cover sheet in addition to any cover sheet required by local court rule.
- If this case is complex under rule 3.400 et seq. of the California Rules of Court, you must serve a copy of this cover sheet on all other parties to the action or proceeding.
- Unless this is a collections case under rule 3.740 or a complex case, this cover sheet will be used for statistical purposes only.

INSTRUCTIONS ON HOW TO COMPLETE THE COVER SHEET

To Plaintiffs and Others Filing First Papers. If you are filing a first paper (for example, a complaint) in a civil case, you must complete and file, along with your first paper, the Civil Case Cover Sheet contained on page 1. This information will be used to compile statistics about the types and numbers of cases filed. You must complete items 1 through 6 on the sheet. In item 1, you must check one box for the case type that best describes the case. If the case fits both a general and a more specific type of case listed in item 1, check the more specific one. If the case has multiple causes of action, check the box that best indicates the primary cause of action. To assist you in completing the sheet, examples of the cases that belong under each case type in item 1 are provided below. A cover sheet must be filed only with your initial paper. Failure to file a cover sheet with the first paper filed in a civil case may subject a party, its counsel, or both to sanctions under rules 2.30 and 3.220 of the California Rules of Court.

To Parties in Rule 3.740 Collections Cases. A "collections case" under rule 3.740 is defined as an action for recovery of money owed in a sum stated to be certain that is not more than $25,000, exclusive of interest and attorney's fees, arising from a transaction in which property, services, or money was acquired on credit. A collections case does not include an action seeking the following: (1) tort damages, (2) punitive damages, (3) recovery of real property, (4) recovery of personal property, or (5) a prejudgment writ of attachment. The identification of a case as a rule 3.740 collections case on this form means that it will be exempt from the general time-for-service requirements and case management rules, unless a defendant files a responsive pleading. A rule 3.740 collections case will be subject to the requirements for service and obtaining a judgment in rule 3.740.

To Parties in Complex Cases. In complex cases only, parties must also use the Civil Case Cover Sheet to designate whether the case is complex. If a plaintiff believes the case is complex under rule 3.400 of the California Rules of Court, this must be indicated by completing the appropriate boxes in items 1 and 2. If a plaintiff designates a case as complex, the cover sheet must be served with the complaint on all parties to the action. A defendant may file and serve no later than the time of its first appearance a joinder in the plaintiff's designation, a counter-designation that the case is not complex, or, if the plaintiff has made no designation, a designation that the case is complex.

CASE TYPES AND EXAMPLES

Table with 2 columns: Case Type and Examples. Categories include Auto Tort, Contract, Real Property, Unlawful Detainer, Judicial Review, and Miscellaneous Civil Complaint. Examples include Auto (22)-Personal Injury/Property Damage/Wrongful Death, Breach of Contract/Warranty (06), Quiet Title, Eminent Domain/Inverse Condemnation (14), and various torts like Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress.
